I never thought I'd be able to shift from 10+ hours of sleep to just 4, but here I am, thriving in the midst of B-school madness.

Late-night assignment sessions have become my new normal, and I'm loving every moment of it. Collaborating with diverse teams, engaging in rich discussions, understanding different viewpoints, and meeting those tight deadlines have all been incredibly rewarding.

What once seemed like a hectic schedule has now turned into a habit with Akshat Goel Vaishnavi Tripathi and Shubhanshi Agarwal . Embracing this new routine has shown me the power of adaptability and the joy of collective effort.

To all my fellow night owls out there, keep pushing, keep collaborating, & let's make the most of this incredible journey!
